

Century's COVID-19 Business Operations Communication 3-27-2020

The COVID-19 pandemic is causing business disruptions that are forcing us all to rethink how we conduct business in the short term. The situation remains fluid, but we understand the need for guidance until the time when we can return to normal life.

As this global crisis continues to evolve, Century will focus on providing uninterrupted Service, Solutions, and Support. We will consider each unique situation and apply empathy that demonstrates the solidarity we feel for all affected.

With these goals in mind, we provide considerations and guidance to our agency partners.
